10 best hotels in Ibiza as it's added to UK's green travel list

It's (finally!) time to get back on the white isle. Rosie Fitzmaurice has a guide on where to flop

There is something truly magical about Ibiza's impossibly crystalline waters and achingly cool bohemian vibe that just lures you back year after year. Well, at least it did in the days when we were allowed to travel freely.

But finally some good news. The Government has added The Balearic Islands - including Ibiza, Mallorca, and Menorca - to the UK's green travel list, so you're finally free to jet off to the white isle. The latest announcement means that travellers returning from these destinations no longer need to quarantine, as of 4am on Wednesday, June 30.

And, really, Ibiza is the only antidote to your pandemic-induced burnout.

From the zen oases perfect for spiritual souls to the hedonistic party hotels, and most staggering sea views, here's where to flop on the island.

Atzaró Agroturismo Hotel and Spa

Atzaró Agroturismo Hotel

Showing off its stellar A-list credentials, Atzaró is where Fendi heiress Paola Fendi recently chose to throw her lavish wedding reception - and it's not hard to see why. Set on 10 acres, the sprawling estate, surrounded by orange groves, gardens and pools, is an absolute must for wellness seekers. Get stuck into the spa, which features a 43-metre freshwater pool, yoga and Pilates pavillion, juice bar, hammam, sauna pod set in a botanical garden and an endless menu of treatments for poolside pampering. Each of the 24 rooms comes with giant four-poster beds and some also feature their own private plunge pools to cool off in after a day of beach hopping.
